Ms. Minza elaborated on the wide range of entrepreneurial opportunities available due to the continuous advancements in technology. She delved into the possibility of creating and selling custom-made software solutions for businesses or individuals and emphasized focusing on niche markets with specialized software needs. As cloud computing becomes more affordable and accessible, she talked about the idea of offering solutions that live in the cloud. She further stated that it is like having a digital space for storage, processing, and managing data, making things easier for everyone. She opened doors to the never-ending possibilities of entrepreneurship in the gaming industry, offering services related to game design, testing, and quality assurance.

The seminar truly enriched and inspired all who attended. Participants learned a lot about how technology and entrepreneurship go hand in hand. It wasn't just an event; it was a spark that ignited an entrepreneurial mindset in everyone, motivating them to dream big and embark on successful journeys where technology and business meet. The faculty stated that they would like to provide more such events in the future, considering the success of the event.
